

The following physical and psychological elements support these objectives:

- Village environment
- Smaller population
- Reunite mother and child
- Farming for cash crops and sustenance
- Education and vocational training
- Green roofs+ cistern for irrigation
- Earthberms and solar screens
- Evaporative cooling and cross ventilation
- Skylights for natural interior lighting

Prison is a system of punishment. However, does punishment of socially oppressed people constitute justice that is sustainable? Or to refine prison as a place to reform and rebuild lives, families and self-esteem a stronger model for sustainability. This way will really help inmates survive in the future in the society never go back to the prison again; therefore, to create a peaceful, utopian society and world.

master site plan legend

1. entrance
2. exit
3. parking area
4. main building
5. main building entrance
6. sally port
7. water pond
8. nursery
9. houses
10. field
11. barn

california institution for women Chino, CA