Loyal Heights - Seattle, WA (2013)
Keeping the 500sf existing house in white, built in 1906, we decided to reinterpret the traditional gable for the new century. The addition is stained black. The existing house and addition is connected with a transparent entry gasket. I was responsible for all presentation graphics, permit documents, and construction documents.

Gallery Cabin- Orcas Island, WA (2014)

Schematic design renderings that was designed for a retiring couple. This cabin was to be minimal and open. I was responsible for all graphics, schematic drawings, material research and specifications.

I was responsible in sourcing options for the client. White cabinetry, statuarietto marble countertops, and steel windows was the material pallet to create a minimal cabin retreat.
