

2026 Interior Design Portfolio

SAMANTHA ROSENBLOOM

Hello! My name is Samantha Rosenbloom, and I am currently pursuing a major in Interior Design and Architecture at Indiana University, Bloomington, graduating in May 2026. I have completed two interior design internships with IG Workshop Interiors and Selezione Interiors in Miami, FL. My skills include proficiency in AutoCAD, Revit, Illustrator, and Adobe Photoshop, along with a strong understanding of business, marketing, communication, and social media. In addition, I am a small business owner and an active member of the International Interior Design Association (IIDA) at Indiana University. As an aspiring designer, I am excited to continue my creative journey in the field of interior design.

INTERNSHIP SELEZIONE

📍 Selezione Interiors, Miami, FL

I recently had the opportunity to work with Selezione Interiors, a high-end interior and millwork firm based in Miami, FL. In this role, I handled a range of responsibilities, including space planning, layout design, and selecting materials and finishes. I also conducted site visits, coordinated with vendors, contractors, and manufacturers, managed international transactions, oversaw textile specifications, and supported the firm's social media efforts.

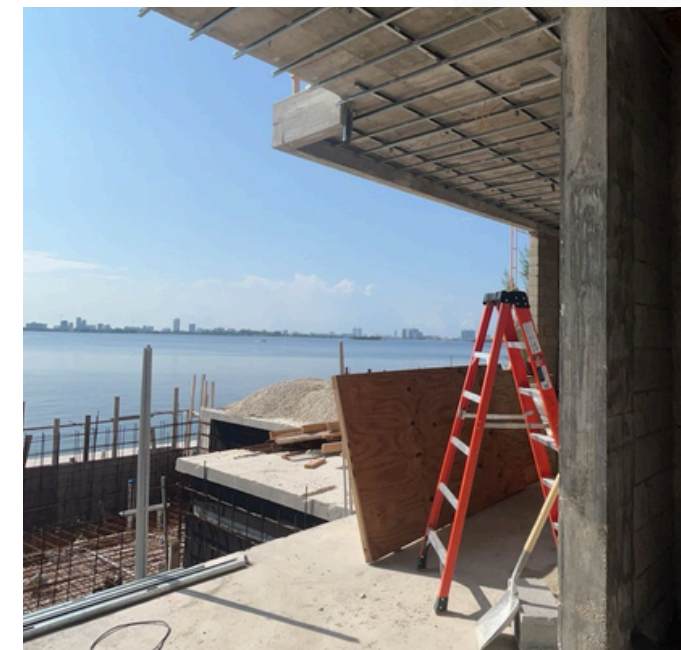

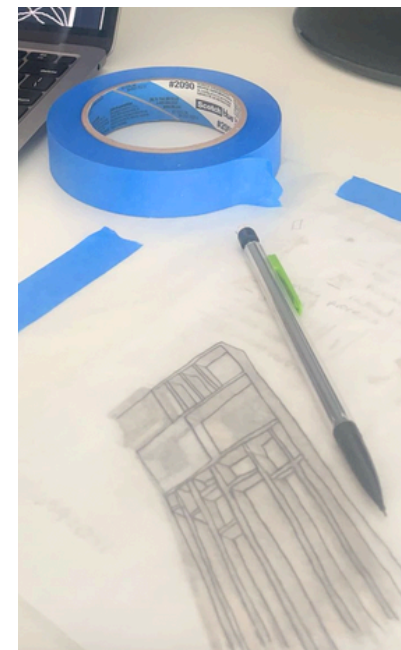

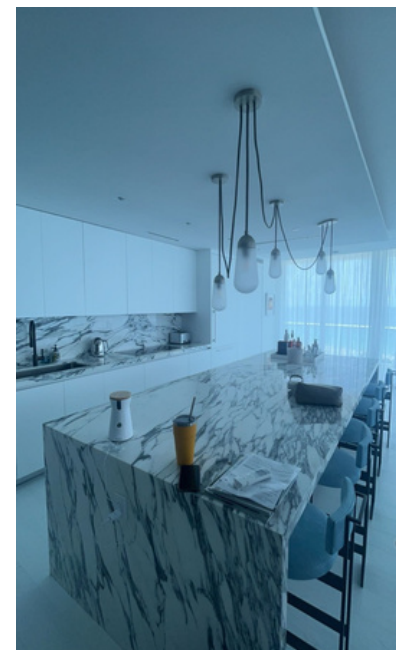

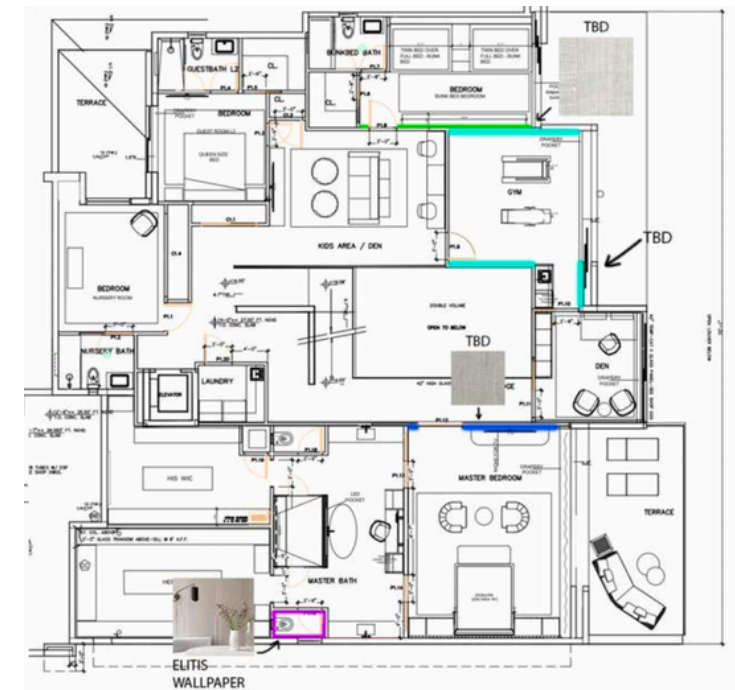

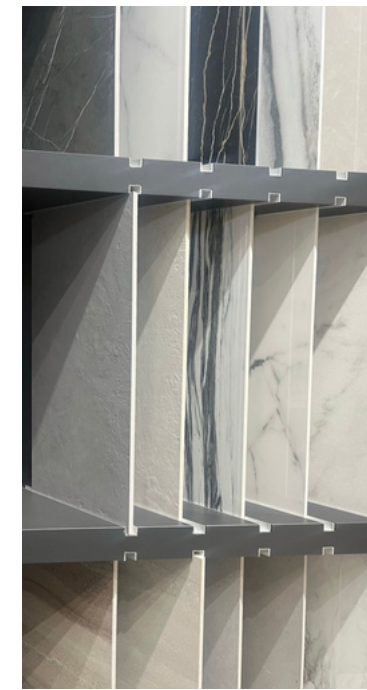

INTERIOR DESIGN INTERNSHIP

📍 IG Workshop Miami, FL

I recently completed an internship with IG Workshop (Art and Loom), a high-end interior design firm based in Miami, FL. During this experience, I supported a wide range of tasks, including project management, drafting floor plans, organizing Excel documents, preparing invoices, developing concept drawings, conducting site visits, and more.

NEW HOPE FOR YOUTH FACILITY

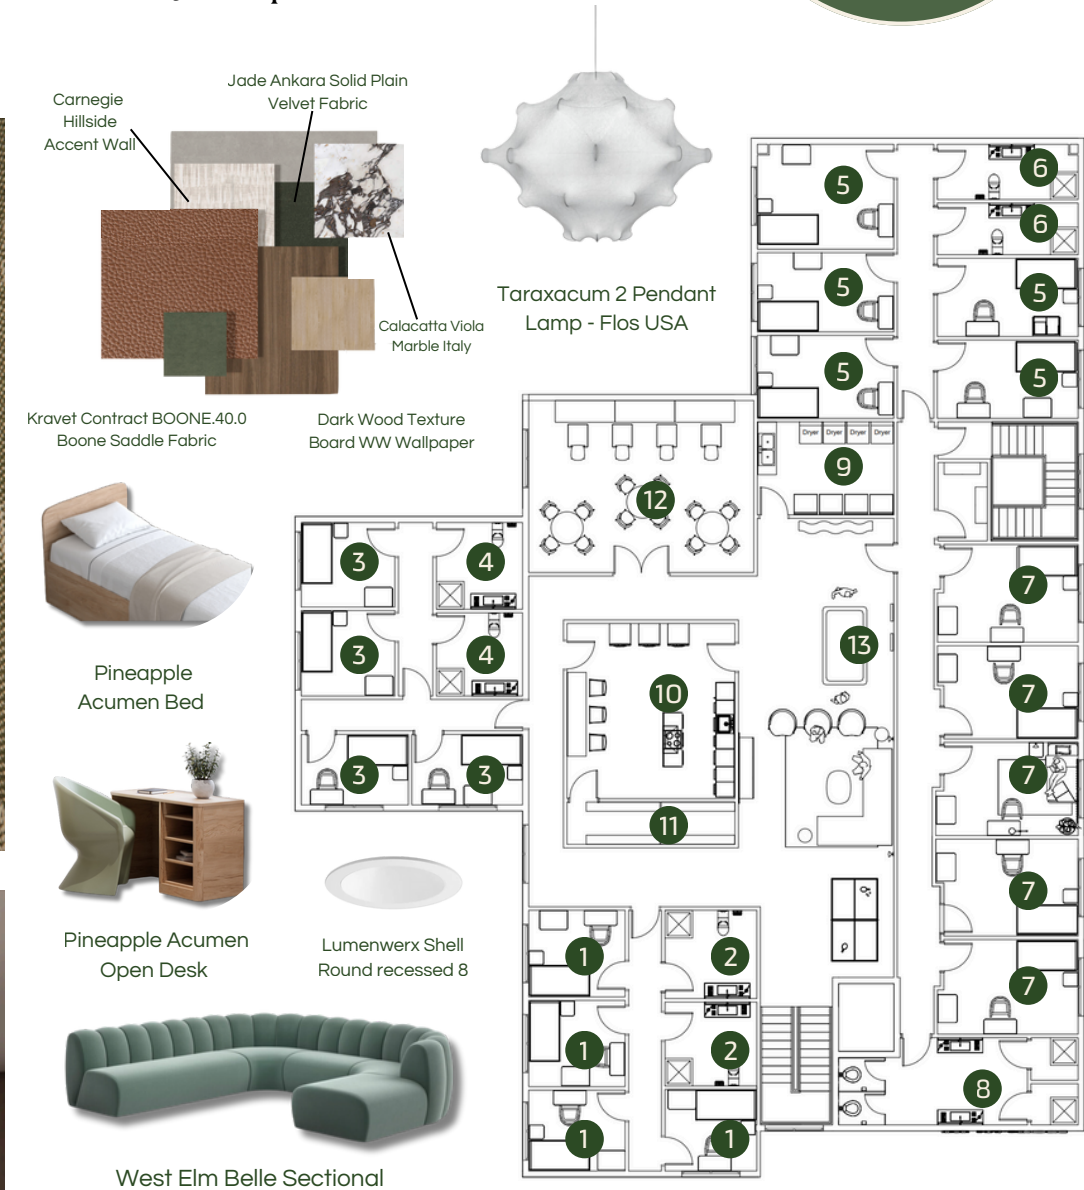

Indianapolis, IN

SQFT - 14,000+ Total

The concept of "branching out for new beginnings" shapes the design of this building by creating open, welcoming spaces that encourage community and connection among individuals experiencing homelessness. By integrating flexible, multi-use areas, secure pods, and supportive amenities like kitchens and common rooms, the design not only meets residents' needs but also promotes autonomy and personal growth, serving as a launchpad for new opportunities and new "beginnings". This facility fosters new beginnings by offering programs and resources that empower residents to develop life skills, pursue education, and find employment. Grounded in trauma-informed principles, the environment prioritizes safety, empowerment, and inclusivity, allowing residents to feel secure as they embark on their journeys toward stability and independence.

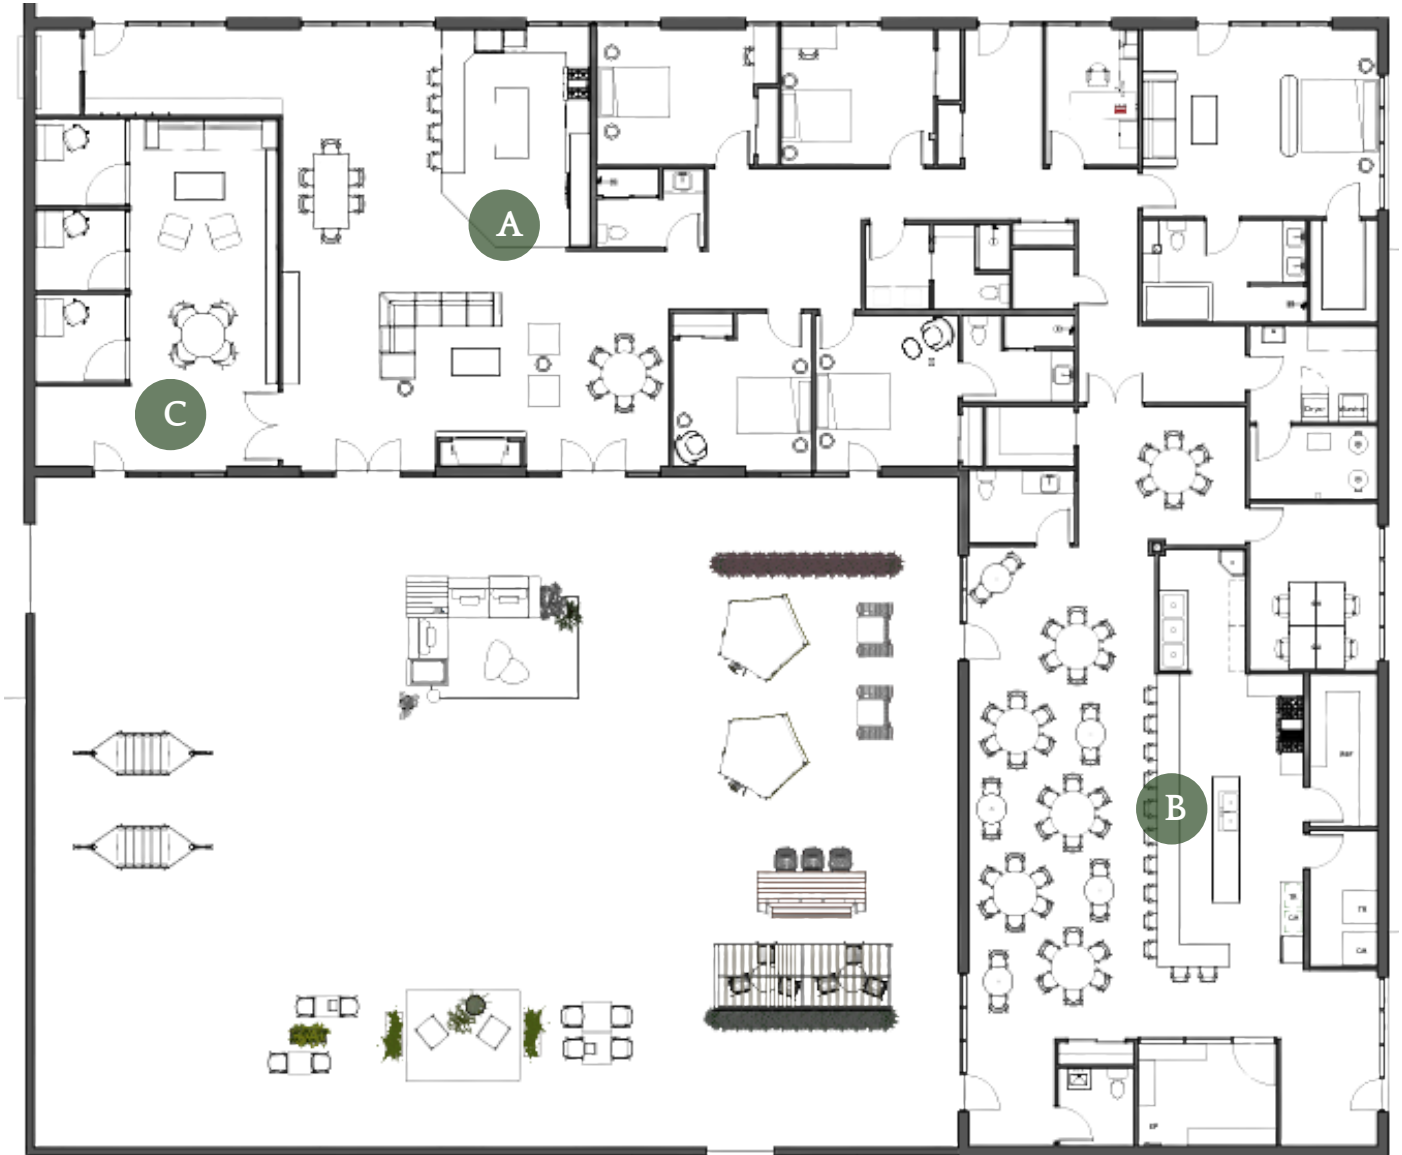

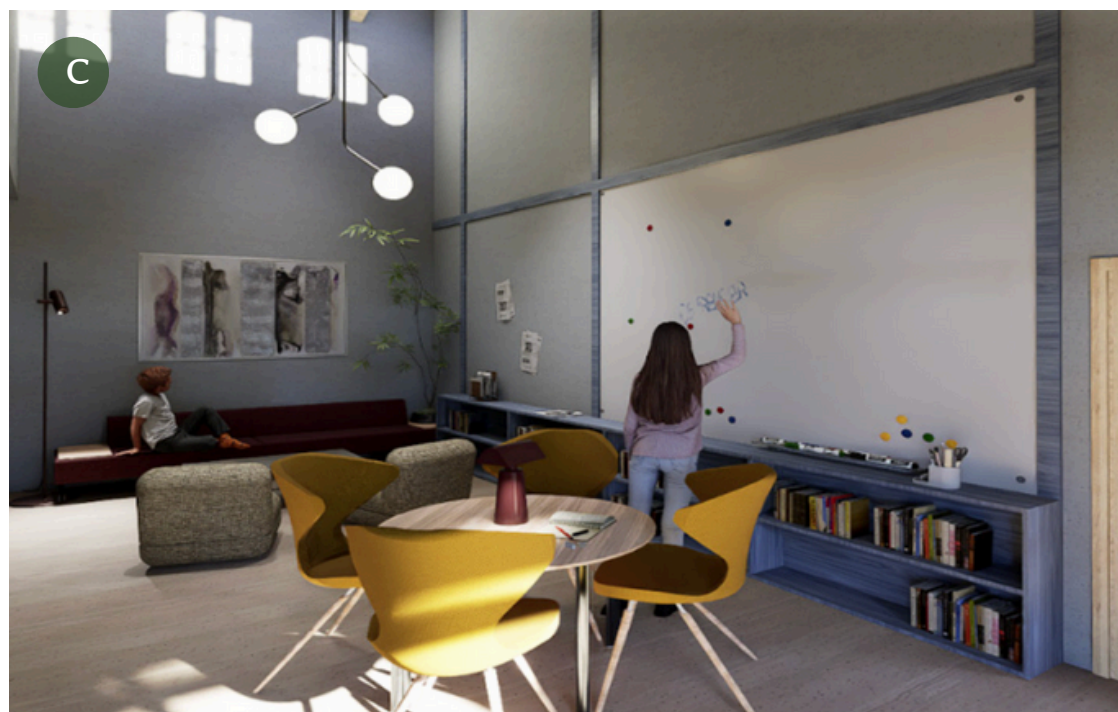

DUALITY HOUSE

📍 Bloomington, IN 🌿 SQFT - 8,500 Total

The Duality Home blends family living with commercial functionality through a flexible layout and strong tie to sustainability. Solar panels, Eco-friendly materials and the composting system work together to reduce environmental impact while supporting users needs. Work, home and sustainability coexist seamlessly.

CLASSROOM OF THE FUTURE

Bloomington, IN

SQFT - 1,200 Total

Students grow and learn through their personal experiences, exercising various learning strategies, and exchanging ideas. Supporting the personal needs of a diverse community of students, the environment surrounding them must create a positive and adaptable learning environment. Based on surveys of faculty and students, we found that the most significant drawbacks of the space were limited technology integration, fixed furniture, and inflexible lighting solutions. Our goal is to transform Indiana University's Kirkwood Hall, Room 202, to better support the needs of its users.

Individual Space

Individual desks are designed for the comfort, focus, and creativity of students. Students can concentrate and develop their own projects after collaborations.
